Lake Ships Threatened By Freeze

Tug Sinks Under Ice As Shippers Battle Winter

CHICAGO (UPI) — A record breaking November cold snap froze the East and South today and threatened Great Lakes skipper with an early freeze-up.

THE WATER was already beginning to freeze at the hugh Duluth ore docks on Lake Superior.

One tugboat sunk under the heavy weight of ice, a freighter was reported ice-bound in Lake Michigan and two barge tows had trouble getting through ice jams on the Mississippi River.

The Coast Guard at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., said there were close to 300 freighters still plying the lakes, about 50 of them, all ice-covered but in no immediate danger, passed through the Soo locks Tuesday.

The big freeze already had closed the ship canal through the Keweenaw Peninsula on Lake Superior. The locks on the Fox River in Lake Michigan's Green Bay were frozen so tight that not even Coast Guardsmen's axes could break them open.

THE COLD wave which posed a threat to shipping reached the eastern and extreme southern sections of the country Tuesday night.

Temperatures dropped to near freezing or below over the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and south Texas.

Hotel Burglars Steal $345 Cash

Palm Springs' hotel burglars yesterday added $345 in cash to the more than $20,000 worth of loot garnered in jewel thefts here during the past two weeks.

Burglars took $275 from wallet of Melvin M. Naftal, of Sherman Oaks, and $70 from the room of Mrs. Wieland Pierson, of Los Angeles. Both thefts occurred at resort hotels, police said.

After Protests Board Requests Assessing Report

Faced with growing opposition to increased assessed valuation in the desert area, the Board of Supervisors instructed the county assessor this week to prepare a report as to its policies and practices, for board consideration.

"We should know what the current assessment policies and practices are and what problems the assessor faces because of lack of manpower," declared Supervisor George Berkeley. "We should have a list of areas in the county in which assessment policies have not yet been established because of lack of manpower, and where action on certain categories of property has not yet been taken because of lack of manpower."

SPECIAL consideration should be given to the status of farm land assessed valuation," said Supervisor Fred McCall.

"In my opinion," said Supervisor William Jones, "the assessor has gone completely overboard on land assessing."

"The situation certainly should be cleared up," agreed Supervisor

L'AMOUR SHAKES BRIGITTE MATE; RESTS AT HOME

Paris—(UPI)—Fifty million Frenchmen today debated whether it was being in the army or away from his wife that made Brigitte Bardot's husband nervous in the service.

Actor Jacques Charrier, the fearful sob of his pregnant wife echoing 'round his ears' went off to the army two weeks ago.

Two days later he was in an army hospital with a "case of nerves," partly brought on, he said, by the fact his barracks mates had naked pictures of "BB" all over the walls.

French army officials, being French, diagnosed Charrier's problem as one of l'amour, and prescribed a 48-hour pass with Brigitte as just what the doctor ordered for a case of nerves.

Bracero Abuses Bring Censure From State Agent

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — "Slipshod" handling of Mexican nationals has resulted in the closing of 144 farm labor camps and the banning of two labor associations in California this year.

Glenn E. Brockway, an official of the U.S. Department of Labor, revealed this information Tuesday night as the Senate Committee on Labor and Welfare completed a two-day hearing on farm labor.

BROCKWAY, San Francisco, said the federal government was cracking down on misuse of Mexican nationals because, "The program itself cannot stand continued violation."

"It's unfair to the 90 per cent of the farmers who are doing what's right for the Braceros (Mexican farm workers)," he said.

Brockway, who is regional director of the Bureau of Employment Security, said that of the 4,705 labor camps in California, more than 1,000 had been issued warnings for substandard conditions.

"Ike to Reply To Suggestion

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower "very shortly" will let Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) know what he thinks of the senator's suggestion that he add former President Truman or another high Democrat to his entourage through Europe, the Middle East and Asia next month.

Paul Anderson.

THE DISCUSSION and action were spurred on in part by newspaper stories of the formation of groups bent on investigation of the methods of reevaluation and by a letter received from the Desert Hot Springs Improvement Association, Inc. expressing opposition to the "discriminating method of taxation which the county has imposed on the desert."

"Surely," wrote Dr. James Compton, chairman of the association's public relations committee, "property values in the desert cannot be advancing two or three times faster than the rest of the county."

Dr. Compton said his committee had been authorized to arrange a meeting of the improvement association with the Board of Supervisors. He said a group of "heavy taxpayers" in the Desert Hot Springs area would like to be present at the meeting "to discuss their taxes." The letter was referred to the administrative officer and assessor for consideration and report.

PSCA Not Plaintiff Against City

Board Resolves Work To Change License Law

The Board of Directors of the Palm Springs Civic Association last night passed a resolution "that they do not support Ed Groves in his action against the city as co-plaintant."

The resolution continued "that they (the Directors) take every step possible to work a change in the existing city business license law, and cooperate with the city."

ROBERT G. HILL, co-chairman of the Association, explained that the city administration has appointed a committee to study possible revisions in the business license law. The city committee was named after petitions were submitted at the last Council meeting.

Hill explained that "the Civic Association has not entered into separate studies, but is prepared to cooperate with the city" in studying possible revisions.

The Civic Association's resolution followed a statement released yesterday by Hill terming his inclusion as a plaintiff suit filed by William Burt, attorney for Groves, as "presumptuous and unauthorized."

HILL EMPHASIZED that the city is studying both the business license ordinance and the Goldberg report. The aims of both the Association and Hill, the statement said, are for "constructive criticism, and cooperation with the city of Palm Springs in civic matters." Hill has notified the Superior Court that his inclusion in the suit filed by Burt was an error, and Burt has withdrawn Hill's name, the statement said.

Because of last night's meeting, the Civic Association will not meet tonight, a spokesman announced.

Knifing Suspect Released as No Complaint Filed

Sheriff's deputies yesterday released knifing suspect Harold Anderson from custody after felony assault charges were dropped for lack of a complaint.

Anderson, 22, of Mission Beach, was accused of stabbing James Drain, 22, of Indio, following an argument over a girl in the aftermath of a Rancho Mirage party Saturday.

Anderson, alias Ronnie Blackmore, was released after Drain refused to sign a complaint. The suspect told deputies he wielded a four-inch pocket knife in "self defense" after he was assaulted by Drain.

Cranberry Plan Unveiled Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cranberry industry unveiled today a plan aimed at putting the traditional cranberry back on the table by Thanksgiving.

SCHOOL SEEKS SUBSTITUTE FOR CRANBERRIES

If you don't have cranberries with your Thanksgiving turkey, what do you use for a substitute? That's the puzzle facing Palm Springs school officials, who this week decided that they're not taking any chances on cranberries this year.

Schools Supt. Dwight Twist said cranberries were struck from school cafeteria pre-Thanksgiving menus by food supervisor Gertrude Anderson when the "cranberry scare" erupted last week.

'Insanity' Plea Slated By Attorney of Youth

By JAY BUNDY
Special Desert Sun Correspondent

YUMA, Ariz. — Nervous and shaken, 21-year-old Tord Zeppen-Field today told Riverside County sheriff's investigators how he bludgeoned attractive, 42-year-old divorcee Lillian Lenorak to death on a lonely Palm Springs road.

Yuma Sheriff Pete Newman said that the bushy-haired youth, captured after an eight-day flight, "confessed to the crime" after a talk with Riverside County Sheriff's Lt. Ed Brown and other Riverside County and Palm Springs officers.

HIS ATTORNEY, Dwain Clark, announced immediately after the young man's confession that the defense would be "mental incapacity and insanity at the time of the slaying."

Clark said Zeppen-Field, who flunked the eighth grade to terminate his formal education, has had "a long history of psychiatric troubles since an early age." He was discharged from the Navy after serving only six weeks "because of immaturity and the inability to adjust."

HE ALSO HAS A record of temper tantrums, followed by blackouts, Clark said. The tantrums "are always followed by blackouts, and a complete loss of memory and recall," Clark said.

The attorney said Zeppen-Field has "very little recollection" of what happened the night before the woman's death.

"HE RECALLS VAGUELY the early evening and the uncontrollable feeling he gets when he has one of his seizures. After that he can't remember what happened," Clark said.

He said Zeppen-Field had "some problems" while serving in the Navy. The young man also had a juvenile arrest record in Palm Springs where he lived with his mother—a former Swedish Olympic swimming champion and owner of a Palm Springs motel. He was arrested three times as a runaway and once on a disturbing the peace charge.

A HITCH IN PLANS to return the young suspect to Riverside County developed when it was discovered that none of the sheriff's representatives assigned to the

HOW DESERT SUN BROUGHT STORY, PICTURES TO YOU

When Riverside Sheriff's investigators revealed at 5:30 p.m. yesterday, that suspected slayer Tord Zeppen-Field was in custody in Mexico, the news-gathering facilities of the Desert Empire's No. 1 daily newspaper swung instantaneously into action.

In brief, here's what happened: Jay Bundy, live-wire police reporter for the Yuma Daily Sun and special correspondent for The Desert Sun, set up immediate Yuma-to-Palm Springs communications for minute-by-minute capsule of each facet of the story.

Roy Schreck, owner of Mamer-Schreck Air Service, was pressed into service in picking up the exclusive pictures of Zeppen-Field from Bundy at Yuma. They were flown back to Palm Springs by Schreck last night.

Finally — until sign-off time and immediately on resumption of broadcast this morning—Radio Station KDES, which is serviced by the news facilities of The Desert Sun, kept a steady flow of information going to Villagers.

case had thought to pick up a warrant formally charging Zeppen-Field with murder.

"We're waiting for someone to come over from California with it now," said Sheriff Newman late this morning.

The Swedish-born Village man with the bent for cowboyish mannerisms will be charged, the officers indicated, with bludgeoning Mrs. Lenorak, thrice-divorced Hollywood film technician, on the night of Nov. 7. Her battered body was

By GEORGE LAINE
YUMA, Ariz. — Tord O. Zeppen-Field and the cousin he had never met sat in silence in the office of U.S. Commissioner John McGuire last night and wept openly.

Mrs. Wania Sexton, 24 — like her cousin, Swedish-born — wrung her hands and studied the weary face of her relative.

"WE'RE ALL with you, Tord," she whispered, placing a hand on his shoulder. "Mother, me, my husband, everyone that knows you."

Zeppen-Field's body shook with a sob. He ran a nervous hand through badly-matted hair, leaned forward in his chair and breathed: "I'm scared."

The statuesque blonde put out her arms to her cousin and comforted him. She had decided to "stand in" for the youth's broken-hearted mother, Mrs. Vega Zeppen-Field, when the report reached Palm Springs that Mexican authorities had captured the fugitive.

ZEPPEN-FIELD STILL wore the Levi jacket and trousers which he was reportedly wearing when his disappearance was reported last Monday. Beneath the jacket, he wore a green plaid shirt. On the left sleeve cuff was a brownish stain which bore a striking resemblance to dried blood. "He was filthy when they brought him here," said Yuma County Sheriff Pete Newman.

Everyone in the Commissioner's office for the arraignment on an FBI warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution — a device used to hold Zeppen-Field until the arrival of Riverside County sheriff's officers who filed a formal murder complaint this morning — was attired neatly and Zeppen-Field provided a sharp contrast.

UNCONCERNED about his appearance, the youth shook visibly as Commissioner McGuire read the charge against him. FBI Agent Robert C. Moody, standing beside him, took the bushy-haired youth's arm in an attempt to steady him.

Seated again after hearing the federal official set bail at $100,000, Zeppen-Field leaned against his cousin. He whispered to her momentarily. Then he blurted-loud enough so that all in the commissioner's office heard — "I'm sorry, I'm ashamed for what I've done."

Mrs. Sexton wrapped arms around him before Sheriff Newman and Undersheriff Jack Chavez led him off to Yuma County Jail.

By 11:30 p.m., Tord Zeppen-Field was sound asleep.

'60 Business Set on Strike Cloud Remains Due To Settlement Doubt

By PAUL H. MACGREGOR
E. F. Hutton & Company

Now that the steel workers have returned to their jobs under a Taft-Hartley injunction, let us analyze the current labor situation and see if we may come up with a logical answer. Of course, what appears to be logical may not prevail, but it is about the best one can do in charting the future.

Certainly, for labor to return to work under duress leaves something to be desired. It still leaves a cloud overhanging the market 80 days hence. Some people think that the strike will be renewed at the end of the 80 day reprieve.

CONGRESS WILL convene in early January, about a month before the 80-day period ends. Both business and labor fear governmental interference, and I predict that the President and Congress are going to be in a fairly uncompromising mood if some settlement is not reached before the expiration of the time limit; in such case, some very restrictive labor legislation may be enacted for basic industries.

Since business and labor would prefer the avoidance of forced arbitration, or its equivalent, I feel that the chances of a mutual agreement before the expiration of the time limit are fairly good. Even this may not forestall some restrictive legislation, but the protagonists may determine that a prior settlement might ameliorate the harshness of such legislation.

UNDER TAFT-HARTLEY, the Government supervises a vote whereby the workers may elect to approve or reject the companies' offer 60 days after returning to work. Yesterday, the Steel Union's President McDonald said in effect that he hoped for a settlement within 60 days.

On the assumption that a settlement is reached soon, what is the outlook for business in 1960?

Authorities estimate that it will take at least nine months of near-capacity operation for the steel mills to supply demand and replenish inventories.

Automobile manufacturers are more optimistic than at any time since 1955. The consensus appears to place 1960 production at 7 million cars. Following are production figures for 1955, and subsequent years:

Passenger Car Production (in Millions)	1955	1956	1957	1958	1959
	7.9	8.8	6.1	4.2	4.2

*Production uncertain, account of steel shortage, but should be close to 6 million units.

Industrial expansion appears very favorable, and as business improves such expenditures should increase.

In the final analysis, consumer buying is the key to prosperity. Here are some October store sales reported on the broad tape Monday, which afford a fair sampling:

October, 1959 Store Sales with % Gain Over 1958

	% Gain
G. C. Murphy	13.7
Rose's	21.9
White Stores	18.3
Diana Stores	27.1
Grand Union	15.8
Interstate Dept.	45.5
McCrory-McLellan	.9
Melville Shoe	13.5
Mercantile Stores	7.8

And-October, 1958 sales were 6% above October, 1957, and 4% above October, 1956, so you see the current store sales are not matched against subnormal sales. When weight is given to the fact that in October, nearly one million workers were unemployed, due directly or indirectly to the steel strike, it illustrates that the consumer is in a buying frame of mind, and that is exactly the point I am emphasizing.

Certainly, 1960 looks like a banner year.

'Fair' System Sought in State Revamp

Voorhees Seeking Equitable Working Of Reapportionment

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Reapportionment of California's Congressional districts must be performed in a manner that will keep the system fair over a 10-year period. Brown Voorhees, San Diego County chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, made the recommendation Monday before the opening session of the Assembly Committee on Elections and Reapportionment.

THE STATE committee opened a two-day hearing headed by Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda). Other sessions are scheduled in Fresno, Los Angeles, and San Francisco.

"The fair approach to reapportionment is not an instantaneous system but one which would be fair over a 10-year period," Voorhees told the committee.

HE RECOMMENDED that districts in San Diego County be redrawn to place a portion of the city and the county in each district. He said it would be preferable for each assemblyman to face conflicts of interest rather than battle their colleagues on singular city or county issues.

Assemblyman Charles Conrad (R-Los Angeles), who served on the Reapportionment Committee 10 years ago, said "we did exactly what you are recommending, what are you complaining about?" in reference to the 10-year plan.

THE COMMITTEE was attempting to gather information on population increases, present political districting and voter registration in order to make reapportionment recommendations to the 1961 Legislature.

"California is expected to receive at least seven additional Congressional seats in the 1961 reapportionment because of the phenomenal growth which has occurred here since 1950," Crown said.

"This will mean that California's existing 30 congressional districts will have to be redrawn to accommodate the increase of seven," he added.

Brown Tabs Five For Advisory Unit

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has appointed five new members to the Planning and Advisory Committee.

Those named this week included C. C. Trillingham, Los Angeles County superintendent of schools; Louis Kanaster, San Pedro, Los Angeles County Planning Commission member; and Paul J. Bretting, Placentia city councilman.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway does not stop at Atchison and Santa Fe; the only remaining stop in the railway's title is Topeka. Last year railways invested over $5½ million in daily newspaper advertising.

County Farm Census to Be Revised Now

The 1959 Census of Agriculture, now under way in Riverside County, will bring up to date farm statistics last collected in 1954, when the farm census revealed the following facts:

The value of products sold in 1954 by farm operators was $86,690,163.

The value of all crops sold was $55,401,690 and included $22,734,555 for field crops, $8,837,562 for vegetables, $21,876,826 for fruits and nuts, and $1,932,755 for horticultural specialties.

The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $31,287,470 and included $4,417,465 for dairy products, $9,874,016 for poultry products, and $16,995,989 for livestock and livestock products.

The value of forest products sold from the county's farms was $995.

INDIAN POTTERY SET FOR MUSEUM

New displays from basketry and pottery collections, plus some Eskimo ivory carvings and a fossilized mammoth tooth, have replaced the loan exhibit of Southern California Indian art at the Desert Museum.

The basketry shown includes pieces from Africa, Egypt, the Philippine Islands and various places in North America.

POTTERY is mostly from the Pueblo area of Arizona and New Mexico. Steps involved in the production of pottery are shown by simple models.

Also exhibited is the Museum's fine rabbit-skin robe, one of the largest and best of the half-dozen or so in existence.

Another panel has been added to the unusual series on birds: this one tells of the California Jay.

Space Accent Will Quell Wars--Editor

Within 20 Years
2,000 Men Soaring
In Solar System

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A space magazine editor has predicted that 20 years from now the nations of the world will be supporting 2,000 men on missions "all over the solar system."

The cost of these missions will be so great, he said, that the nations will have no room left in their budgets for the costs of war.

THEREFORE, BY THE hard logic of economics, a world irrevocably bound for the planets also is irrevocably committed to peace, he said.

This appraisal was presented at the annual meeting of the American Rocket Society by Dr. Franco Florio of Washington, D.C., editor of the Italian-Language magazine Missili e Razzi.

Florio addressed an audience most of whose members were, one way or another, involved in military programs for the exploitation of space. He told them, in effect, that they might as well get ready to turn in their soldier suits for space suits.

THE EDITOR SAID that immediate space demands in both the U.S. and U.S.S.R. call for rockets many times more powerful than military missiles. The money for these craft must come from that part of the budget hitherto allotted to defense.

Since there is no military justification for these space exploration rockets, Florio said, the nations will have to give up some military programs "to stay in the space competition."

For the first time in hundreds of years, no flax was grown commercially in Northern Ireland in 1959.

MURDER

found early on the morning of Nov. 8.

WAINA SEXTON, 23, Zeppen-Field's cousin who accompanied Dwain Clark, his attorney, to Yuma last night, had a short conversation with him at the Yuma jail and in the offices of U.S. Commissioner John McGuire.

Yesterday, a coroner's jury, at an inquest into Mrs. Lillian Lenorak's death, said that the 42-year-old Hollywood divorcee had died as a result of "blows to the head inflicted by a person or persons unknown, and we believe that Tord O. Zeppen-Field is involved."

THE FINDING was reached after Deputy Coroner James Bird, Jr., took testimony from four persons, and then gave it to the eight members of the jury.

First to testify was Robert A. Dexter, Riverside County pathologist, who said he could not determine how many blows to the head there had been, but there had been several.

FOLLOWING DR. Dexter to the stand were sheriff's deputy Jack Kesner, who described the murder scene; Capt. Ed Miller, who described the physical evidence collected both at the scene and in Zeppen-Field's bedroom; and Dr. Frank G. Back, who identified the body as that of Mrs. Lenorak, and said he brought her to Palm Springs the evening of Saturday, Nov. 7, and that when he let her out of his car on Paseo El Mirador near Indian Avenue, she was alright.

Clark, who has been hired by Mrs. Vega Zeppen-Field to defend her son, Tord, suspect in the murder of Lillian Lenorak, yesterday turned over to sheriff's deputies a "will" written by the 21-year-old youth which was found by his mother in a drawer in the house.

THE "WILL," written crudely on yellow tablet paper, said:

"I Tord Zeppen-Field, live (leave) all my stuff to Ronny Blackman — (and then listed) typewriter (typewriter), gun, motor (motor), and everything I own (own)."

The note was not dated nor signed.

Ronny Blackman, unidentified before, was the youth who told police that the pistol grip found under the body was hand-fashioned by young Zeppen-Field.

Palm Springs Indians Boosters Club will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Palm Springs Boy's Club. Anyone interested in joining the organization is invited to attend the business session.

BOARDING THE PLANE for Yuma, Ariz., last night, Dwain Clark, Palm Springs attorney, is accompanied by Waina Sexton, Tord Zeppen-Field's cousin, and pilot Ray Schreck. The trio arrived in Yuma about 8:30, in time to attend the arraignment of Zeppen-Field before U. S. Commissioner John McGuire on charges of illegal flight. When he is returned today to California, charges against him will be dropped by Federal authorities. (Desert Sun Photo)

RIVERSIDE SHERIFF'S Capt. Ed Miller and Chief Trial Deputy District Attorney Roland Wilson hold a so-called will which was written by Tord Zeppen-Field and left in a dresser drawer at his home. The will was found by his mother and turned over to the youth's attorney, Dwain Clark.

Crudely written and containing badly spelled words, the note read: "I Thor Zeppen-Field live all my stuff to Ronny Blackman—typewriter, gun, motor, and everything I own." The writing and the spelling matched other notes found in his room. (Desert Sun Photo)

Air Force, Industry Meet Here

Flight Safety Experts From Three Nations

Nearly 175 experts in aircraft electrical systems from the United States, Canada, and Great Britain convened here again today for the second of a three-day international conference designed to prevent military aircraft accidents.

The 43rd Air Force-Aircraft Industry Conference on Flight Safety, being held at the El Mirador Hotel, will adjourn at noon tomorrow. The closed sessions are sponsored by the Air Force's Directorate of Flight and Missile Safety Research, a Pentagon level unit located at Norton Air Force Base, San Bernardino.

KEYNOTE speakers yesterday were Major General Joseph D. Caldar, Deputy Inspector General for Safety, USAF, Washington, D.C., and Brigadier General Walter E. Arnold, Director of Flight and Missile Safety Research, Norton.

D. C. STACHLER

D.C. Stachler Named to Top Dealer Post

D. C. Stachler, owner of Stack Chevrolet, has been elected chairman of the regional division of the Chevrolet National Dealer Planning Committee, and will represent the entire Pacific Coast at the national meeting in Detroit Dec. 8-10.

The honor came at the regional meeting in San Francisco, which he attended as spokesman for fellow dealers of this region.

Stachler was elected representative of this region by other Chevrolet dealers, under a nationwide program which Chevrolet pioneered in the industry in 1937.

The system operates as a medium for dealer representatives and company executives to discuss industry developments, retail selling conditions and other mutual business.

The Chevrolet National Dealer Planning Committee is organized at district, zone, regional and national levels.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT
IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thrust of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to styling. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

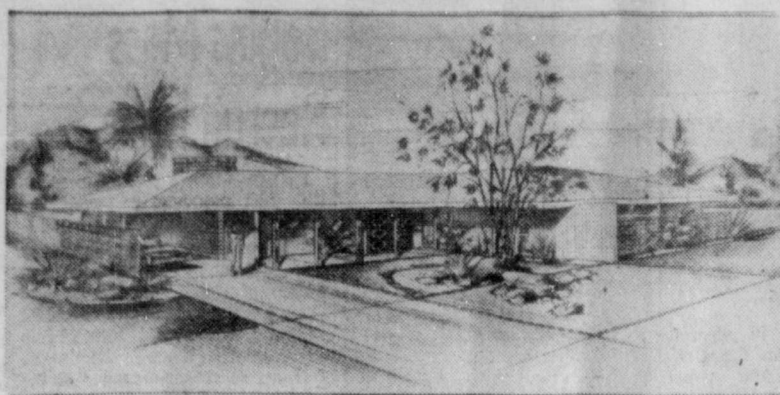

Nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came...

Boy Gets Wish and Then Some

PERKINS, Okla. (UPI)—Three-and-a-half-year-old Rod Buck will be able to say someday that a pony helped put him through college.

Like many small boys, Rod expressed a wish for a pony. His parents, Shirley and Marvin Buck, shared a common interest in horses and rodeos, so they couldn't deny their son his wish. But a high school teacher like Marvin can hardly afford the expense of keeping a horse. So the Bucks came up with this plan. A mare could pay her own way with a foal every year. And if they kept the fillies, added them to the brood mares and sold the colts, the ponies would even show a profit.

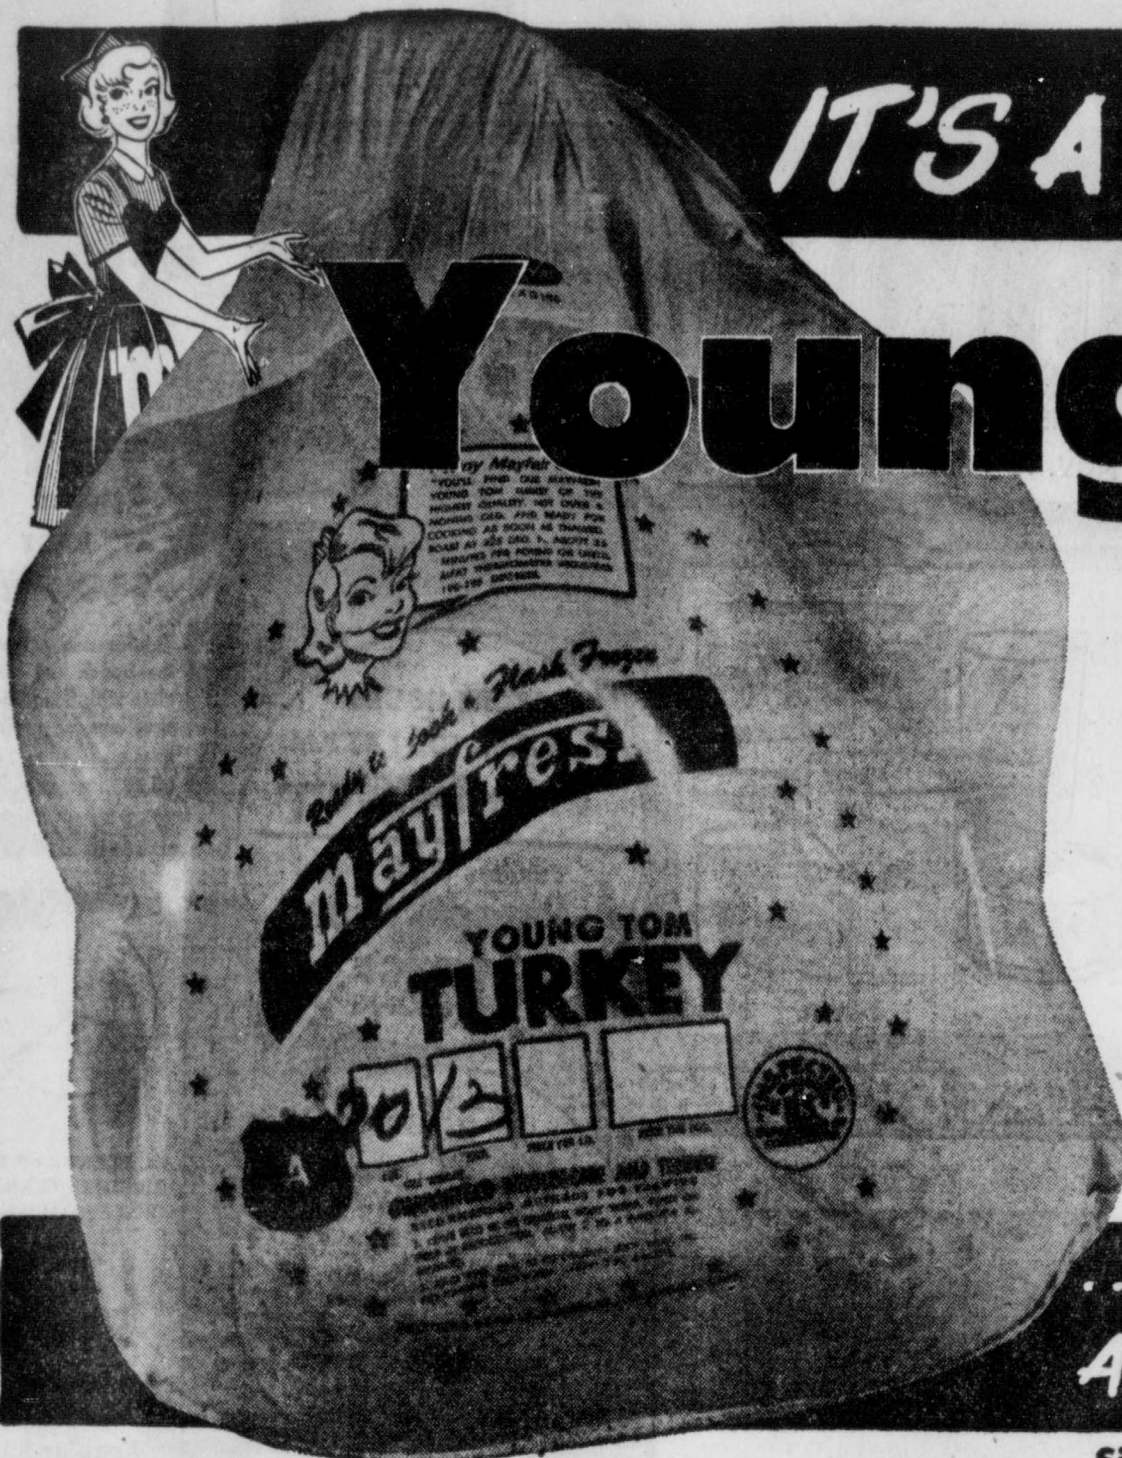

They decided this was the way to save for Rod's college education.

The first purchase was "Kewpie Doll," a 7-year-old black mare with a gentle disposition. Her first foal was born in June. Rod named her "Sugarfoot."

So now Rod has two playmates — and a good start on a solid investment for his future.

unions of the years 1909, 1919, 1934 and 1949 held on Sunday.

Superior Court Sets Murder Trial Jan. 11

DOWNIEVILLE (UPI)—Larry Lord Motherwell will go on trial for murder Jan. 11 in connection with the mysterious death of Mrs. Pearl I. Putney, 72, a Washington, D.C. widow.

Motherwell appeared Monday before Superior Judge Winslow Christian and pleaded innocent to the murder indictment handed down by the Sierra County Grand Jury.

The judge turned aside defense efforts to have the indictment against Motherwell, 43, dismissed.

The defense argued that the indictment was worthless because only 18 members of the regular 19-member jury panel were present when action was taken.

New Jet Engine Top Performer

VAN NUYS (UPI)—A new "hyperjet" engine has been tested successfully at simulated speeds and altitudes higher than ever before achieved with an air-breathing power plant.

Marquardt Corp., in making the announcement this week, said the engine was operated at simulated flight speeds in excess of five times the speed of sound at altitudes above 100,000 feet. The extensive ground testing was completed last month under sponsorship of the Air Force, at the Ordnance Astrophysics Laboratory, Daingerfield, Tex.

RED SCHOOLS 'GHOSTLY' IN FREE NATION

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, said Monday night the Russian education system would be "ghostly in a democratic society."

The President's brother said the Soviet system is serving "the needs of a totalitarian society very effectively," but would not work in this country. He said there were problems in the American educational system, but added that "American education always has served the people's needs."

"With forty-six and a half million people involved in formal education you are bound to get some problems," he said. "There are bound to be some very fine schools, some fair schools and even some very bad ones."

Dr. Eisenhower, former president of Pennsylvania State University, was here to address a meeting of Johns Hopkins alumni. He refused to discuss national affairs involving his brother.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: My husband spends anywhere from one hour to an hour and a half in the bathroom every morning. I don't think it should take any able-bodied man that long to shave, shower and brush his teeth. (I think he reads in there.)

I wouldn't object, but we have only one bathroom in our house for my husband, myself and our 3 school-age children, and he often makes the children late for school. My sister-in-law tells me that her husband, who is a brother to my husband, is exactly the same way. Does it run in families, I wonder? And can you, or any of your readers, offer a solution?

MIN

DEAR MIN: Lack of consideration for others obviously "runs" in your husband's family. Call a family powwow. Set up a time schedule, allowing each member of the family a fair share of time in the bathroom. (No reading!) Punish all violators. If the gander goes, he'll have to take his medicine just like the goose and the gosling—with no quack coming!

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Roy and I have just celebrated our fourth wedding anniversary. He didn't even kiss me because he has his foot in a cast. There was another spell between Nov. 6, 1958 and March 19, 1959 when he wouldn't kiss me.

He is okay once you get him going, but he will never start anything on his own. I feel like a beggar.

Is this the way married life should be? Or am I expecting too much? I would like to have a family, but the way things are going, my chances are small. I am 24 and Roy is 26. What do you suggest?

UNLOVED

DEAR UNLOVED: You are not expecting too much and you will never be "expecting" if you don't resolve your problem. Roy is not behaving like a healthy normal man of 26. He needs a physical examination from the feet up.

too poor. Jack worked all summer and saved enough for a down-payment on a second-hand car. He works weekends and after school so he could pay it off himself. Dad still says he can't have one anyway. Jack told me he plans to run away. He's been studying maps of Colorado so I know he means it. How can I keep Jack from going through with his plan without telling Dad?

WORRIED SIS

DEAR SIS: Unless you have an unusual amount of influence with your brother, this is no job for you. Where's your mother? Perhaps she can convince Jack that "running away" is no way to solve his problem. If mother isn't able to help, appeal to an adult whose judgment Jack respects. If there is positively no one to whom Jack will listen, tell your Dad.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NO BRAIN BONNIE": Don't major in HUSBANDRY. It is the study of caring for domestic animals—not a husband. I recommend a course in Home Economics.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STILL WAITING": on Montgomery: Give your banker friend thirty days' grace. Maintain your principles and, if he still stalls—tell him YOU'VE lost interest.

What's your problem? For a personal reply write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Brown Lauds State's Savings

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has complimented his official family for saving more than seven million dollars this year and urged them to keep pinching pennies wherever possible.

The governor told his department heads that he had just received a complete report on his administration's economy drive for the last six months of the fiscal year that ended June 30. "It shows," he said, "that our efforts resulted in savings of $7,548,965 more than had been estimated for that period by the preceding administration."

Troy, Bruins Grid Classic In 30th Year

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The football rivalry between UCLA and Southern California is only 30 years old, but in that time the game has become a traditional classic.

The 30th anniversary of the first meeting finds SC with a team hailed as a throwback to its "thundering herds" of the '20s and '30s when Howard Jones built the Trojans into a national football power while UCLA was emerging from swaddling clothes.

SO IT WAS LITTLE wonder that in the opener between the schools in 1929 SC coasted to a 76-0 victory. But the UCLA team that takes the field Saturday is a far cry from that 1929 squad.

The Trojans followed up that 76-0 win with a 52-0 victory in 1930. Then the series was suspended while UCLA "grew up," athletically speaking. It resumed in 1936 in a classic 7-7 tie that confirmed the newer school had arrived as a major institution in the world of football.

There were two more ties before UCLA scored its first victory on Dec. 12, 1942, with a team led by Bob Waterfield, who went on to pro fame with the Los Angeles Rams. The win sent UCLA to the Rose Bowl to be beaten by the Georgia team led by Frank Sinkwich and Charlie Trippi.

BUT IT WAS in the decade from 1949 when the late Henry (Red) Sanders took over as coach of the Bruins that UCLA really came of age in the series with its cross-town rival.

UCLA has taken six of those 10 games and SC three. One game, last year's contest, ended in a 15-15 tie. During that decade UCLA ran up its biggest score, 39-0, in 1950 as tiny tailback Teddy Narleski ran wild.

Biggest College Crowd is Expected

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The biggest local college football crowd of the season is a virtual certainty today for the Southern California-UCLA game Saturday afternoon in Memorial Coliseum.

All 68,000 reserved seats were sold Tuesday, and 33,000 general admission seats went on sale today at the SC, UCLA and Coliseum ticket offices. Prices are $3 for adults, $1.50 for servicemen and $1 for children.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wisconsin, Washington and Kansas will clinch bowl berths Saturday by winning their showdown games against old rivals, the oddsmakers predicted today.

The winner of the Kansas-Missouri game will represent their conference in the Orange Bowl, provided bowl-ineligible Oklahoma (a 13-point favorite) downs Iowa State.

Southern California is a nine-point favorite over UCLA, Iowa is 14 over Notre Dame, Yale is 6 over Harvard, and Penn State is 7 over Pittsburgh in other major clashes between old rivals.

Colts Favored to Beat 49ers, Jam Western Division

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International
The Baltimore Colts, defending National Football League champions, are favored to tie the San Francisco Forty-Niners for the Western Division lead when they clash in Sunday's top game.

The Colts (5-3) trail the Forty-Niners (6-2) by a game and are seven-point favorites to whip the California club in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium before a sell-out crowd of 55,557.

The New York Giants and the Cleveland Browns, tied for the Eastern Division lead with 6-2 records, and the Philadelphia Eagles (5-3) are favored in the other key games. New York is a 5½-point choice to down the Chicago Cardinals and the Browns are nine-point favorites to defeat the Pittsburgh Steelers (3-4-1) at Cleveland. The Eagles entertain the Los Angeles Rams (2-6) and are favored by 3½ points.

In the other games, the Chicago Bears (4-4) are favored over the Lions (2-5-1) by five points at Detroit and the Packers (3-5) are four-point choices to defeat the Washington Redskins (3-5) at Green Bay.

Each of the 12 teams has four more regular season games.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Zora Folley risks his rating as the second-ranking contender for the heavyweight title tonight against promising Alonzo Johnson of Pittsburgh.

The odds were 125 to 1 that Folley, of nearby Chandler, Ariz., would win.

The fight, for the benefit of the cystic fibrosis charity, will be telecast nationally by ABC.

SYRACUSE COACH SAID BEST OF THE WEEK

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — The equipment: Two strong units with no apparent weak spots. The attitude: "Hard-nosed" football.

The result: The first Eastern team, other than a service academy, to be rated the number one football team in the nation by United Press International.

The man who combined the equipment and the attitude to produce the result: Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse, today named as the UPI "Coach of the Week."

The honor came after the ex-paratrooper's charges clobbered arch-rival and neighbor Colgate, 71-0 last Saturday. But the selection was as much a salute to the fact that Schwartzwalder had brought his undefeated gridgers to the number one rating and a Cotton Bowl berth.

This year things are different. A fleet of able backs, plus the "sizeable seven" first unit line and the alternate wall which spiritedly calls itself the "unknown seven," share equally the credit for the 8-0 Syracuse record.

Handy Man

DETROIT (UPI) — Jim Martin, place-kicker who also plays any of half-a-dozen positions for the Detroit Lions, earned the Bronze Star while serving with the Marines in the Pacific in World War II.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Raymond Berry, Baltimore Colts end who is considered one of the National League's finest pass receivers, can barely see a football lens.

PHIL WATSON RECOVERING

NEW YORK (UPI) — Phil Watson, recovering from an ulcer operation, is expected to take up his new duties as director of the New York Rangers' farm club operations in about six weeks.

FOOTBALL DOUBLEHEADER

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new Year's Day football doubleheader featuring the Orange and Cotton Bowls will be presented consecutively on the Columbia Broadcasting System television and radio networks.

Tout Socher, S.F. State Midget, As Another Eddie LeBaron

By HAL WOOD

United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Jimmy Socher, a tiny bundle of dynamite on the football field for undefeated (10-0) San Francisco State College, is being touted to the professional camps by his coach, Joe Verducci.

"He is the finest all-around we know," says Verducci. "I certainly hope somebody gives him a chance."

But if Socher, a quarterback, makes the grade, it will be a miracle. He stands only 5-3 and weighs, at the most, 150 pounds.

"You might call him the Eddie LeBaron of a later decade," says Verducci.

Socher is a fine passer, with a four-year record of 134 completions out of 271 attempts for 2008 yards. He is a fine signal caller, who has led his team to four straight Far Western Conference championships. He is the leading punter on the team.

"But if nobody wants him as a quarterback," says assistant coach Vic Rowe, "I certainly wish they would give him a chance as a defensive back."

"He is a deadly tackler with very sure hands. Some of the pro scouts already have told me that he would get killed the first time he tried to tackle a man like Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns. But I certainly wish they would give him a chance."

This year Socher passed for eight touchdowns. He completed 54 tosses out of 106 for 916 yards.

He had seven intercepted. "He is an intelligent fellow who runs the team real well and who knows the game of football inside-out," says Verducci.

"Everybody thought LeBaron was too small for professional football. I think they are about the same height. LeBaron has been a wonderful man for many seasons for the Washington Redskins."

"It is possible that someone will pick up a gem in Socher, too." Verducci scouts for the Chicago Bears in the San Francisco Bay Area. It is possible that young Jimmy may get a shot with the Monsters of the Midway in 1960.

That's it, of course, owner George Halas will listen to his own scout.

No Surrender In Book Battle

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—There is no surrender in sight in the "battle of the books" which has been raging around President Eisenhower and other top World War II Allied military leaders almost since the actual shooting stopped 14 years ago.

This became newly apparent when the smoke cleared from the latest skirmish, triggered by criticism of President Eisenhower in the diaries of Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke, wartime chief of the British General Staff.

FIELD MARSHAL Viscount Montgomery, who already had sniped at Eisenhower in his own memoirs, joined Alanbrooke in a new assault on Eisenhower's strategic abilities as Supreme Allied Commander in Europe.

Montgomery also recalled that Eisenhower had been "ungenerous" to him and Alanbrooke in his own 1948 book, "Crusade in Europe." And he added that Gen. Omar N. Bradley had said some "extremely unpleasant things about me" in his World War II memoirs, published in 1951.

HERE, IN BRIEF, is how the book shapes up:
Alanbrooke, in his "Triumph in the West," said no one was running the land war in France before the Battle of the Bulge in late 1944. He said "Eisenhower, though supposed to be doing so, is on the golf links at Reims — entirely detached and taking no part in the running of the war."

The White House denied that Eisenhower played golf at Reims, and Alanbrooke said he had not meant to leave this impression. He said he merely meant Eisenhower was at his "forward headquarters" on an unused golf course at Reims.

EISENHOWER, in his own book, said he set up a forward command post just outside Reims so that he "could easily reach any portion of the front, even on days when flying was impossible."

He said he spent a great portion of his time in such travel, until winter weather made roads impassable. Gen. Carl Spaatz, who commanded U.S. strategic bomber fleets, recalled recently that flying was ruled out during the time of the "Bulge" because of weather.

EISENHOWER AND Bradley both recalled differences with Alanbrooke and Montgomery over whether to strike into Germany on a broad front or to make a single powerful thrust into the Ruhr. Alanbrooke and Montgomery, in their books, said the war could have been won in 1944 instead of 1945 if their single-thrust view had prevailed.

Alanbrooke admitted he was wrong, Eisenhower's book maintained. This was described as occurring while both of them stood watching Allied troops crossing the Rhine into Germany in January, 1945. Eisenhower wrote:

"HE TURNED TO me and said: 'Thank God, Ike, you stuck by your plan. You were completely right and I am sorry if my fear of dispersed effort added to your burdens. Germany is now licked . . . thank God you stuck by your guns.'"

Eisenhower classed Alanbrooke as "A brilliant soldier" who lacked ability "to weigh calmly the conflicting factors in a problem and so reach a rocklike decision."

ALANBROOKE SAID Eisenhower had "absolutely no strategic outlook" but made up for it "by the way he works for good cooperation between allies." Bradley said Eisenhower was a "superb tactician" and if anyone disagreed it was because of Montgomery's attitude.

How has Eisenhower acted to the Montgomery-Alanbrooke sniping?
His one noteworthy public reaction came at an Oct. 14, 1958, press conference when he noted that "We won the War in 11 months, from the day we landed (in Normandy) and I heard no single prediction before that, at any time . . . that war would be over, in less than two years."

"I think I have been criticized by everybody who can write a book and I will be in the future," he added.

Heavy cream is lighter than milk. Cream will float on the top of milk because it consists mainly of fat. Last year dairy products advertisers invested over $17 million in daily newspaper advertising.

According to a recent survey, the average high school girl spends $170 per year on clothing. To reach this every growing market, apparel advertisers invested over $8½ million in daily newspapers last year.

Champion Chef Is Bachelor

HONOLULU (UPI) — A 53-year-old bachelor from Los Angeles was hailed today as the champion cookout chef of the United States.

And while the title may not seem like much, the $10,000 that went with it was a little more impressive.

Robert G. Gribbroeck, a Hollywood film technician, claimed both fame and fortune in the culinary field with a concoction he called "pork tenderloin Javanese."

The dish won the unanimous approval of five judges at the first annual Kaiser Foll cookout championship conducted here Saturday.

It topped the efforts of 25 finalists chosen from some 5,000 all-male entrants in a nationwide contest.

The four runners-up were Merritt H. Hursh, Pittman, N. J.; Sam G. Swisher, Phoenix, Ariz.; Richard A. Wegener, Fresno, Calif.; and Richard B. Worl, Mercer Island, Wash.

The grocery bill for the five-hour contest was $1,200, enough to keep a family of four in food for at least 10 months.

The four runners-up were Merritt H. Hursh, Pittman, N. J.; Sam G. Swisher, Phoenix, Ariz.; Richard A. Wegener, Fresno, Calif.; and Richard B. Worl, Mercer Island, Wash.

A lop-sided moon hung low in the sky... as Desert Riders rode across the shadowed desert to Sunny Dunes Monday night... but was riding high and brightening the landscape for the return ride... For some riders this was the third steak ride in a row... but there was a good crowd turned out... gathering for the usual "horsepitality" hour... hosted by the Lloyd Lafolins... Western clothes were reinforced by woolly jackets and coats... for the night was cool even in the curve of the surrounding hills... The gaslights lit up the scene... where the tables were set up... and there was the good smell of meat broiling... emanating from Jack Boyer's chuckwagon...

Tomorrow is the birthday of California's First Lady... and the Governor's wife will celebrate it in Palm Springs... She's entered in the Thunderbird Women's Invitational tournament this week...

Those two "overly exuberant convention-type men" in the Dunes... who kept yelling to "buy those two entertainers a drink" on Friday night... might well be amazed to know that the "entertainers" were Jimmy Van Heusen and Sammy Cahn...

AND the entertainment they were providing at the piano they borrowed from Larry Foy was MERELY their new score from the highly publicized film "The Billionaire"... Sammy was singing the Marilyn Monroe lyrics... with Jimmy going wild on Gregory Peck's numbers... the pair (they also did something called "Love and Marriage" a few years back) wound up with their own version of "Mack the Knife"...

In their party that night were the Mel Ferrers (she's Audrey Hepburn... whose "Nun's Story" is a cinch for an Oscar)... Mrs. Kirk Douglas and Murray Wolf...

Bernie Young writes from Stanford, Montana... of snow, ice and blizzards... and said that Ernie is leading ore again... with the steel strike ended... and it's rough in that weather... Ernie spent most of last summer in their Montana mines... and Bernie has been there for two weeks... She wound up on a pathetic note... to please send her "some Palm Springs sunshine"...

Out at the polo matches at Palm Desert Sunday afternoon... handsome Hugh O'Brian (Wyatt Earp) was attracting as much attention as the polo... It was his weekend to be host at Whispering Waters... where he is one of the owners...

Winn (Mrs. Charles) Becker was entertaining her sister Helen Dodge at the Ranch Club Sunday (Charles is in Washington)... The Duke Woodwards and a large group of friends drove up from the coast to attend one of the Ranch Club's fabulous Sunday Brunches... only to find they were jumping the gun... the brunches there won't start until Sunday, November 29...

Add another date to your calendar... The new opening date for the Gay 90s Room at the Ranch Club has been moved up to December 4...

Luncheon at Oasis Honors Teen Angels

Pink carnations in white cherub-stemmed holders, decorated the tables at Oasis, when Teen Angels of Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation of Desert Hot Springs were entertained at a luncheon.

Bringing to a conclusion the recent Teen Angel contest, the luncheon honored the girls who sold votes at a penny apiece to raise $6700 for the Foundation.

Highlighting the luncheon, the new Teen Angel Bonnie Blackstone was officially crowned by the 1958 Teen Angel Dianne Copass.

Runners-up, Cherubs Georgia Morris and Mary Faith Gastel and the other 10 contestants received gifts donated by merchants of Palm Springs and Desert Hot Springs.

The Teen Angel also received her two prizes, a fabulous trip to Hawaii, plus a trip to Catalina as a bonus for bringing in the most out-of-state contributions. Kathleen Patrick, director of the John Robert Powers School, presented Bonnie with a scholarship, and Pauline Copass, president of the Palm Springs Auxiliary, gave her tickets to the Pink Carnation Ball, which will be held at El Mirador on Saturday night.

Following the invocation by Grace Pederson, president of the Desert Hot Springs Auxiliary, Glory Munday, toast-mistress of the event, asked the Teen Angels to introduce their mothers and guests.

Esther Eaton, originator of the Teen Angel idea, introduced her guests, Juanita Crockett, Ellen Saunders, Edith Kopelson, and Hildy Crawford, thanking The Desert Sun for its assistance in publicizing the Teen Angel contest since its beginning.

The charming table decorations, which included pink ribbon streamers, were the work of Colleen Morey and her assistants Mildred Woods, Barbara Hermans, Diane Little and Irene Winans.

Ferne Morgan gave an inspiring talk on the progress and prospects at Angel View, and concluded the luncheon with a spiritual message.

Those present were Geri Leonard and Mrs. Leonard, Carol Lindbon, and Mrs. Lindbon, Larrielle Avant and Mrs. Avant, Julia Rossio and Mrs. Rossio, Bonnie Blackstone, and Mrs. James Blackstone, Mrs. Little, Marcella McGinley, Georgia Morris and Helen Morris, Mrs. Di Grandi, Carol Winslow and Mrs. Winslow, Pauline Mavridake and Mrs. Crowell, Charlotte Seales and Esther Eaton, Hildy Crawford, Ellen Saunders, Grace Pederson, Pauline Copass, Dianna Copass, Minna Kanya, Lois Kanya, Dorothy Kibbey, Billie Thompson, Barbara Hermans, Marian Mooney, Dianne Little, Mildred Woods, Sarah Weiss, Irene Winans and daughter, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Ette Kephart, Mrs. Ferguson, Dianne Little, Mrs. Damon, Betty Greene, Ferne Morgan, Marguerite Burmesch, Edith Kopelson, Kathleen Patrick and daughter, and Juanita Crockett, Mary Faith Gastel, Colleen Morey and Glory Munday.

This was the third annual luncheon to be given for Teen Angels. The first was held at Addingtons three years ago, and last year's luncheon was at The Springs.

CONNIE BARLEAU

Schlesingers Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schlesinger have returned to their home on Livmore Avenue, following a trip to Los Angeles and San Diego. Schlesinger, local attorney, participated in the 12th annual tax institute at the University of Southern California, which was attended by attorneys specializing in Federal Income Tax problems.

Connie Barleau and Larry Foy of The Dunes will entertain during the cocktail hour, preceding the Pink Carnation Ball at El Mirador on Saturday night, it was announced today.

One of the few singers of intimate songs in the country today, Connie sang in supper clubs throughout the country and was internationally known before coming to Palm Springs. For years before she retired, she was as much of an attraction at The Dunes as the fine cuisine is today. Now she appears only at benefit performances for favorite charities such as the Pink Carnation Ball which is for the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation.

Foy, who presides over the piano bar at The Dunes, was with NBC in New York, before coming to the Village. He has worked with such big name singers as the late Ezio Pinza, Peggy Lee, June Christie and Palm Springs' own Allan Jones.

Connie and Larry have been working on special arrangements for their special appearance, and he has been selling tickets and making radio appearance to publicize the Ball.

Unusual Murals in Office

By CORNELIA Sussman

A series of delightful murals may be seen these days adorning the walls of Dr. Charles Baldwin's office on North Palm Canyon Drive. These paintings depict in charming and whimsical fashion the folklore surrounding the origin of babies.

Chubby infants emerge from satiny green cabbage leaves in one panel; in another they are seen peering over the edge of Doctor's black satchel; in a third panel, babies nap rosy and sunburned in the heart of a great golden sunflower; the next panel shows blissful white winged angels bringing the sleepy creatures; another most charming scene portrays baby emerging with a great yawn out of the heart of a magnificent cabbage; then comes the stork with a most amused look on his face; he is followed by a scene of a round laundry basket out of which three gleeful infants stare back at startled eyes peering through a door; the next picture shows a baby staring hopefully out of a battered carton box left by a postman in a rural mailbox; there is, of course, a baby who comes in Santa's pack. The most beautiful of all the murals are the last two — one in which a slumbering infant is being carried on the myriad rainbow-colored wings of the fairies, and then the last with the little medieval banner caption: "Mother told me God made me," portraying a tiny human mite in the center of an iridescent globe held by two great hands.

These beautiful and vicarious murals are the work of a noted local painter, Jeane Coutts Anguiano, who although born in Granada, Spain, grew up in Palm Springs, where she has lived in between travels, for 34 years.

Jeane learned how to hold a brush from her internationally famous artist father, Gordon Coutts; later she studied under a scholarship at Otis Art Institute in Los Angeles; became a protégé of Sir John Lavery, R.A.; and for a time studied under the inspiration of Reginald Marsh in New York. She has exhibited at San Diego Art Gallery in Balboa Park, Sunset Galleries, Francis Webb Galleries, Los Angeles Art Institute, Los Angeles Museum Centennial, County Exhibitions, and many others too numerous to mention.

It is interesting to recall that Jeane was the original founder of the Allied Arts Association in Palm Springs, out of which grew the present Palm Springs Art Center. That first historic meeting of all the artists in this area was held in 1946 in Jeane's studio on Patencio Road.

Married to the Mexican muralist, Mele Anguiano, with whom she has collaborated on many murals — they met while she was in Mexico to study under the great Orozco — Jeane manages to go right on painting while raising a family of artistically gifted children, three of whom have already received art awards at their tender age.

Her portraits are known throughout California — last summer she was commissioned to do a five-and-a-half foot by five foot

SHADOW MOUNTAIN CLUB'S formal opening Saturday evening was a gala affair with the Club filled to capacity. Pictured above are two popular members of the Club, Mr. and Mrs. John Moon (she was on the decorating committee that night), shown with song stylist Gloria Grey, and one of the French poodles that are part of her act. Gloria, who toured with Frankie Laine and had her own program with Dick Contino, has just completed an engagement at the Las Vegas Desert Inn. (Desert Sun Photo)

Club Has Formal Opening

Saturday evening found Shadow Mountain Club jammed to capacity for its annual formal opening. Beautifully-gowned ladies and their escorts danced throughout the evening to the music of Keith White and Renato and the Rockets.

White and silver balls sprinkled with glitter, attached to silver ribbons were suspended from the ceiling, enhancing the beauty of the Club. Champagne corks popped and waiters carried in lighted birthday cakes, for the many who were celebrating birthdays. A lively entertainment program featured Dick Kite of Palm Springs, one time singer with such notables as Charlie Barnett, Spike Jones and Charlie Spivak. Dick did an exceptional job with "I've Got You Under My Skin" and "Mammy," followed by Keith White and Renato, who did a specialty number, and rounded out by song stylist Gloria Grey who recently finished an engagement in Las Vegas at the Desert Inn.

The guests included many local and out-of-town members of the club and their guests. Among them, were Messrs. and Mmes. James E. Wright, Richard Winck-

Also: Cliff Henderson, Marian Marsh, Donna Scrivener, the Elk MacDonalds and son Bob from Detroit, the John MacContys of Brentwood, Beth Fisher, Marjorie Pohl, the Carl Hendersons, Lynne Morgan, Kurt Adler who is head of the San Francisco Opera Company, Mrs. Walter Dunn and many, many more.

"It is often very difficult for the average layman to determine the condition of a used car. Yet there are thousands of used cars sold every year that are in excellent condition with many miles of trouble-free driving ahead. A good 'rule-of-thumb' to be followed when purchasing a used car is to know your dealer. . . if you don't know used cars. Here at Plaza Motors we keep only those used car trade-ins that we believe will offer the purchaser the best value for his money. Many of these trade-ins were sold originally by us to local families, and the complete service record is available for the purchaser to inspect. Along with the sale of these cars goes the integrity and reputation of Plaza Motors which we value very highly. Here is an example of just one of the several fine used cars now available at our show room:

Oldsmobile 1957 — 98 Holiday Sedan. Full power. Air conditioning. Two tone charcoal and white, and in immaculate condition. Less than 24,000 actual miles. Ask to see license number STL-153.

HDQTS, 1ST RECON SQD, 9TH CAVALRY, KOREA—Clean concrete steps lead upward from the dirt trail where the jeep has stopped. A concrete path takes you to a platform overlooking a wild valley equipped with the gadgetry of a summer sightseeing tour.

The commanding officer, Lieut. Col. Myron Johnston of El Paso, Texas, says that he had his men build the steps and path up the slippery hill to accommodate the many touring Congressmen and distinguished visitors. You are about to behold, like 2,000 others before you, one of the grimmest battlefields of the 1950-53 war for the liberation of Korea.

A BAS RELIEF map depicts the swooping landscape. Soon you are oriented to what lies before you. The guide points out the white engineers' surveying tape which crosses the entire Korean peninsula, marking the borderline. On each side of the tape lies the DMZ (demilitarized zone) and beyond — the vast half-world, beginning with North Korea and ending in East Germany, that is the Communist Empire.

There comes, drifting over the valley, the swift volleys of artillery. The enemy is in training. Through the binoculars you can see his buildings. Through the telescope you can pick up fifty-foot letters, mounted on a cliff, and reading in Korean (your translator says): "Yankee Go Home!"

WAS THERE EVER such a war as the Cold War? Were there ever such conquerors as these Americans? From this observation post (O. P. 211)

you see the site of Indian Village, where the Big Switch of prisoners was made, and the "glory road" which our men took to the "freedom date" bridge — and home! You are shown a spot where the last American soldier died, seconds before the zero hour of armistice. ("The Commies had one more shell in the tube, so they fired it.")

You yourself think of home, and you recall the families of the boys who were killed, wounded, or captured in this dreadful war—that wasn't a war, and yet a war which still goes on.

Behind O. P. 211, stands the American 8th Army, equipped with M-47 tanks, 155-mm howitzers, Honest John rockets, M-1 rifles, 4.4 mortars, and a new artillery piece called the M-56 assault gun. The 8th Army guards a small but vital front of only 18.5 miles in length which blocks the Kasson Corridor, the north-south invasion route of the centuries.

EASTWARD TO THE Sea of Japan stands the Korean Army of some half a million soldiers, American-equipped, American-trained. Make no mistake. Despite the sightseeing arrangements, this is a front in the biggest, although at present the quietest, war of them all.

There is another thing that should not be mistaken. The Americans are here as conquerors. Except for the small enclave around the Pusan Harbor, every foot of South Korea was recovered from the Communists after their sneak attack of June, 1950.

SOME 16 UNITED Nations members made some welcome contributions to the fight. Nine of these nations besides the U. S. A. are still represented, if you use the term very loosely. The Turks and Thais have a few hundred soldiers. British, Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, Greeks, French and Ethiopians are "present", with liaison officers — but none of this token-showing is going to scare the enemy, or resist him. The record ought to stand clear — that is, in every way that counts, an American show.

The conquerors, then, are such as history has never known. They have brought their families and their customs with them. Tonight about 22 miles behind the battlefront, in a sumptuous Officers Club, I shall have cocktails and dinner to the thump of a dance band and amid the merry swing of a floor show.

BEHIND THE lines there are three American elementary schools and a consolidated high school for the service families. The Army in the Seoul Area has 150 soldier-pupils in eighth grade work and 3,500 in high school classes. The University of Maryland has over 1,000 attending its extension courses, and last year gave bachelor degrees to six.

Nothing could seem more normally American than this life so far from home. Aside from standing in readiness for battle, the Americans spend their duty hours training Koreans in every conceivable craft and activity of war and peace. It is normal, perhaps, because we are getting used to the life. But this war and these conquerors are something new under the sun.

This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dogs, And I'm not worried Over cranberry bogs.

Sounds silly, doesn't it? But it's just that I am not going to get excited by this hullabaloo in the public prints about the cranberry situation.

Personally, I don't care for them too much. I'd just as soon have applesauce with my drum stick a week from Thursday.

AND AS FOR THAT 'quick brown fox' deal. That DOES worry me. That little sentence contains every letter of the alphabet. At least once.

Ever since I first pecked out that sentence trying to achieve some success at a typewriter keyboard so many years ago, I have been trying to think of another sentence which also contains every letter of the alphabet.

TRUE, I HAVE manufactured some. But none of them make any sense. None of them pictured a spry Reynard setting a new hurdle record over a line-up of lackadaisical canines.

Then I got to thinking that if he jumped over dachshunds it would be low hurdles and over Great Danes, high hurdles.

By that time, I would have forgotten the original intent.

SO I AM STILL using that "quick brown fox" formula in the early morning to flex my two index fingers with which I typewrite, with an occasional assist from a thumb, for the space bar.

The reason that I type that line the first thing each morning is to see what kind of a day I will have.

IF I CAN TYPE that line with less than three mistakes, then I know that all of that day, the linotype operators, the proof reader and Mr. G. are going to have peaceful co-existence.

If more than three errors creep in, then I know that the Cold War will continue until sundown. And am prepared.

I USED TO REHEARSE for the day with that oldie: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country."

But that doesn't contain all of the letters of the alphabet. And besides I was writing that one morning when the telephone interrupted me. And when I looked back at the paper in the mill, I read:

"Now is the time for all men to come to—"

Figured that was an accidental truism and let it go at that.

HERE'S A BIT of advice from an automotive friend of mine.

He says that if you must turn on your radio while driving, find a station which is giving out with smooth stuff or waltzes.

Don't tune in one with jazz or lively music.

Unconsciously, he says, your foot keeps time with the music and if it is 6-8 or faster, every time you jiggle that foot throttle you're wasting gasoline. You'll go farther with the Blue Danube.

STAN DELAPLANE:

In Book Battle

We have been having unseasonable warm weather out this way. And I tell you our garden does not know what to do. Blooming like Spring.

I don't know what to do, either. Let me tell you something else. Neither do the experts.

When the Japanese cherry tree began budding out — and here it is November. This foolish tree began putting on bangles and beads. Naturally, I looked it up in the book.

I HAVE SEVERAL books on gardening. For some reason, New York publishers send me books from time to time.

Odd books. For a long time they had me on a science-fiction list. All about people who lived in space helmets and had tentacles instead of arms. And little machines instead of brains.

THEN THEY GOT me on dog books. Then on garden books.

My garden book is called "Practical Gardening."

A basic book for the beginner and an up-to-the-minute guide for the advanced gardener. It is not up to my minute.

"The Japanese cherry tree, which make a lovely display in Spring . . ."

My tree is making a lovely display in November. No advice on that. No advice on emergencies. I do not know what to do about that tree.

IT IS AN EXCELLENT book as long as the trees stick to their seasons. This book is written by Mrs. Gunnison. She dedicated it to Mr. Gunnison, which shows a happy family relationship.

She thinks highly of mulch. I am not sure what mulch is but, I gather, for plants it is like poi to an Hawaiian. Makes their teeth white and their hair curly.

I NEVER USED any mulch—I don't even know if we have a mulch store around here. But I did have some sensational success with a Rangpur lime tree we had for awhile.

Whenever we had a party, I threw the left-over martinis on it.

All our parties are held in the yard so you can barbecue. And it was no trick at all to pour the pitcher on it. I poured it on with the ice.

"... You think it's wise to have such a large family, dear? ... Authorities everywhere take a dim view of juvenile gangs these days!"

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Bing Buys Story

HOLLYWOOD — Hot on the heels of Sir Laurence Olivier's bid for an Emmy Award via his magnificent teleperformance as the runaway artist in "The Moon and Sixpence," Bing Crosby moved in fast and bought Paul Vincent Bonner's novel about a runaway artist — "The Art of Llewellyn Jones."

Instead of an Englishman, this moderate best-seller tells the tale of a U.S. diplomat who changes his identity, hides out from his wife in a Midwest town, becomes a painter, etc. It will follow "Daddy-O," in which he plays a teacher, on Bing's schedule — and for which Fox is angling gorgeous Germaine Capucine of Paris as the cutie who teaches French across the corridor from Crosby.

P.S.: BING BOUGHT the Bonner book "blind" — i.e., the agent who grabbed it for him didn't let the author know it was for a millionaire named Crosby! Bing bagged it for a $3,000 deposit. Balance: $32,000 — crazy, man, when you consider story costs nowadays, and also how Metro shelled out $150,000-plus percentage-of-the-profits to the author of "I'll Cry Tomorrow."

I received a letter from Brian Aherne, postmarked Bloomington, Ind., "Katherine Cornell and I, co-starring here in 'Dear Liar,' drew 1,000 more theatergoers than Billy Graham had in his congregation. When you consider that this is the university town where The Kinsey Report got rollin' before Kit and I put the correspondence of George Bernard Shaw and Mrs. Pat Campbell together and came up with a play called 'Dear Liar,' I think we may safely assume GBS is chuckling in his grave!"

LOU JACOBI'S description of his part in the Franz Liszt movie, "Crescendo": "I'm playing a 'best friend' again — the guy who stands in the wings with 'Bravo, Franz.' Left or right wings, what difference — I wind up playing hockey positions!"

Once upon a time an actor named David Niven went to dinner at the home of another actor, the late Humphrey Bogart. David (who told me this story and gave me permission to print it) left Bogie's number with the Nivens' phone — answering service, in case he got a call, because David was sorely in need of a job at the time and wasn't about to miss any calls from producers if he could help it!

SURE ENOUGH, he got a call at Bogie's — from the late Mike Todd. Todd wanted Niven and ONLY Niven (the producer told the actor) for the comedy lead (but not the starring spot) in the first and last picture Todd ever made, "Around the World in 80 Days."

David, all agog, told Bogie about the exclusive bid. "Excuse my foot," said Bogie. "He offered it to me and I turned him down — why, he even offered it to Noel Coward and Noel turned it down!"

LAP-DISSOLVE: David took the job anyway . . . Fadeout to '59, several years and an Oscar later for Niven: Cary Grant and co-producer Stanley Donen have signed Yul Brynner and Mitzi Gaynor for the starring roles in "Surprise Package." They want David Niven — and Niven ONLY! — for the comedy lead (but not the starring spot) in the picture.

Comparing notes with Noel Coward and Peter Ustinov, David discovers they've been offered the same part by Grant and Donen . . . Will history repeat itself? Will Coward or Ustinov take the part? Will whoever takes it win an Oscar? Will Niven kick himself around the block because he backed away from it? Watch this space for future developments.

YOUNG BYRNES, by the by, is pulling the same sidown strike on the Strip series at Warner — TV that Clint (Cheyenne) Walker and Ty (Bronco) Hardin pulled previously. Won't say why — except for "negotiations for a new contract have failed" — but it's the same old story, Ed signed in for peanuts when he was an unknown, the series made a big star out of him, every other studio in Hollywood wants him for 10 times the salary the Warners are paying him, and 'round and 'round we go.

Just how popular is this Sunset Strip show? Kookie says those ratings must be right. He met the Vice President during Dick's visit here. The Veep told him it's the favorite show at the White House and proved it by rattling off some recent plots of same!

JACKIE COOPER joins Betty Grable, once used to an actor named Jackie Coogan, on Sunday's (Nov. 22) Dinah Shore Show, along with the Inbal Dancers from Tel Aviv. I hope they do their famous Wedding Dance. Miss Shore wasn't too sure they would, last time I spoke to her — "because it's a little to long for the show, and the camera might not catch all the subtle comedy."

Cooper, coincidentally, since he's very hot in Hollywood now as a result of his high-rated Hennessey series, just refused $7,500 for a Sunday Showcase. The offer, he said, was $2,500 too little. So here goes Dinah again, paying 'em $10,000 per guest shot, just to keep her l'il ol' show The Best in the Biz.

SHIRLEY JONES and a lad named Jack Cassidy are teaming to co-star as brother and sister in the pilot film for a new situation-comedy family series to be produced by Leon Schinasi. It must be true, what they say about very-much-in-love married couples looking like each other, since Shirley Jones is Jack Cassidy's wife.

Wany Jack Mullany is on his way out as Ann Sothern's comedy sidekick in her series but nobody could be less buggy about it — the guy's got offers from every studio in town.

If you're wondering why NBC's Janet Blair is doing a guest spot on "a rival network" with ABC's Pat Boone tomorrow night (Nov. 19), it's because their sponsor on both webs is Chevy.

WAS A TIME when an actress had to have a simple name like Bessie Love or Clara Bow before she could become a star. But now Leticia Novarese is set under her very own moniker for the femme lead in Fox-TV's new Mr. Belvedere series, Luciana Paluzzi is sailing along under her own colors in the same lot's Five Fingers strip — so Linda Lawton, just added as a regular in Fox's Adventures in Paradise, tells me she's going back to HER own name — Linda Spaziani!

On the same subject, Gina Lollobrigida is still wondering what Bob Hope meant when he said her name "sounds like someone rattling a stick along a picket fence." Che cosa e questo, Roberto?

Drysdale TV Actor

By TOM DANSON
HOLLYWOOD — The "Van Nuys flash" and Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher, Don Drysdale, has been signed by Warner Bros. to do a feature role in "The Hardcase," a "Lawman" drama for the ABC-TV web. The role marks Drysdale's acting debut in show business.

Don will play a sympathetic role of a cowboy who falls for a beautiful young girl on a cattle drive. When the girl is seriously injured and in a coma, Drysdale is jailed for the crime.

MONEYMAKIN' MOUSTACHE

Paul Fierro, whom you've seen in loads of motion pictures and TV westerns will never be without his large black moustache, for as he recently TOM DANSON told me, "I wear it as a money-maker, not a prop."

"How come?" I asked.

"Well," he replied, "I've never had so much work in pictures and television since I grew this big moustache. Now I fit into the western period in varied roles, heavy or otherwise; it fits the gangster period; fits the Biblical period and nowadays, even the beat period, so the parts just keep rolling in."

Paul went on to tell me that this money-making moustache is so important to him that he went to Max Factor and had an exact duplicate made just in case he is asked to shave it off for some particular role.

Red Rowe Show Was 'Uninspired'

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — In another lame attempt to recapture the spirit of the unavailable of redhead, Arthur Godfrey, the CBS-TV daytime schedule inserted the Red Rowe show Monday.

Rowe, called "The redhead, himself," makes the mistake of nearly begging for audience acceptance in a sticky kind of casual patois that blends the hip and the hillbilly. Crosby (Bing) and Ernie Ford can work this sort of approach skillfully while others attempt it at their own risk.

THE MONDAY — through — Friday morning show ("live-on-tape," they call it) made some uninspired stabs at musical good cheer and small talk, and the level of entertainment was only a few notches above that of the Howdy Doody show.

In fairness to Rowe, I must point out that the half-hour was shamelessly interrupted seven times for spot announcements and commercials and even Jack Paar gets a better shot at the audience than that, I believe.

THE HIGHLIGHT of the premiere came when singer Julie Wilson threw herself to the floor and demonstrated her setting-up exercises, complete with a superb headstand.

But Miss Wilson was there as a guest, not as a member of Rowe's TV family. Perhaps if Rowe can get more guests to unbind as Miss Wilson did, he may appeal to viewers who can't wait until nighttime and the Paar show. Otherwise, I'm afraid the Red Rowe show has a long row to hoe.

IT MAY BE that the beatniks' great contribution to American culture will be that they supplied TV comedians, comedy writers and choreographers with a full season of material. Just about every situation comedy, private eye, and variety show has gone beat this fall.

Monday night, it was the Danny Thomas show on CBS-TV that flogged the beatnik minority. While the poetry-reading spoof was enjoyable, Thomas had to deliver an impassioned anti-beatnik sermon and crush the fun right out of the show.

TO THOMAS, beatniks and beats were "crumbs," "lazy bums," and their work "garbage." Then came the Steve Allen show on NBC-TV, with guest Jack Kerouac the bellwether of the beats. Reading from his novel, "On the Road," Kerouac's recitation added dimensions of sincerity that heretofore were lacking.

Incidentally, the clan was "sympathetic." Obviously, Jack hadn't seen the Thomas show.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Edd "Kookie" Byrnes is temporarily on the sidelines while Warner Bros. films more episodes of ABC-TV's 77 Sunset Strip. Kookie isn't working until his agents and Warner Bros. reach agreement on a new contract.

Sportscaster Bill Stern's story will be seen on NBC-TV's This Is Your Life Wednesday, Nov. 25. The show was taped Nov. 9. Sir Anthony Eden will show off his home and garden at Pewsey Wiltshire, 85 miles from London, for CBS-TV's Person To Person video-tape recorders next Monday.

Viewing will be scheduled for sometime next January.

A 12-year-old boy with no previous acting experience, Frederick Clark, has landed the title role in the DuPont Show of the Month adaptation of "Oliver Twist." To be seen on CBS-TV Friday, Dec. 4. Red Buttons will star in a one-hour comedy, "Something Special," on NBC-TV's Startime Tuesday, Dec. 1.

'HELL FLOWER' SET AS DOCUMENTARY

The social, judicial and medical activities directed toward retarding the ever-growing problem of dope addiction is placed under intense scrutiny in an hour-long documentary, "Hell Flower," Wednesday, Nov. 18, 10 to 11 p.m., on KNXT, Channel 2. (Editor's note: The program will pre-empt United States Steel Hour this one time only.)

Preparation on this special report was instigated as far back as June 1958 by the KNXT Public Affairs Department. Its efforts included world-wide correspondence, telephone conversations, in-person interviews and months of research into volumes of printed material on the subject.

THE CUMULATIVE result is a hard-hitting story intended to help clarify the multi-faceted nature of the problem.

Narrator Bill Stout interviews two young women now in jail on narcotic charges, two addicts at the California Institution for Men at Chino, and a number of members of the Synanon Foundation in Santa Monica who are trying to help themselves stay away from drugs through group psychotherapy.

CHANNEL 2 cameras will take viewers on an actual arrest of a dope peddler in Los Angeles, attend a meeting of Narcotics Anonymous and pictures the agonies which befall an addict during the period of withdrawal from the drug.

Also to be interviewed on the program are: California's Governor Edmund G. Brown; Dr. Victor Vogel, former head of the Lexington Narcotics Hospital; George White, Western Chief of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics; Dr. Walter Bailey, sociologist at UCLA; Dr. Marcus Crahan, the sheriff's chief medical officer at the Los Angeles County jail hospital; and Captain Ruth Johns who is in charge of the women's section of the county jail.

The dramatic documentary was produced by William Whitley and written by Irwin Rosten. Dan Gindell will direct. Richard Ashby is associate producer and Fred Nelson is film editor. Cameraman on the project is Jack Leppert.

"MAKE UP YOUR MIND, SON..."

Much can depend upon a proper choice. Happiness... personal success or failure... financial gain or loss. So, as Pete's father knows, it is important that a boy learn how to make the right decisions. Pete has learned well. He chose between idleness and frequent "hand outs" from Dad and a profitable newspaper route, a growing business of his own. He chose between frittering his earnings away and saving a part of them toward a college education or something else really worthwhile. He chose to stand on his own two feet—the pride of his parents and the envy of his friends. As a newspaperboy he is building solidly for the future.

Classes Prepare For Homecoming

By MARALEE MORRIS

All this week Palm Springs High School clubs and classes will be busy preparing their floats for the Homecoming Parade. Georgia Morris, chairman of the Homecoming activities, predicts that this is going to be one of the biggest and the best Homecoming celebrations P. S. H. S. has ever seen.

Don't forget the American Field Service chocolate sale begins this week. Support this foreign exchange student fund raising event, and enjoy delicious "World's Finest Chocolate" at the same time.

Last week P. S. H. S. members and alumni were invited, by Mrs. Glen Austin, head of the Palm Springs chapter of WAIF, to meet Princess Marie Cecile of Prussia. Among those invited were Leann Howard, Vic Pine, Diane Jennings, Ronald Crawford, Elstner Hilton, Tyson Weihi, Cindy Bogert, Jerry Malouf, Susan Rapp, Denny Hicks, Rosie Sullivan, Dennis Theriault, Sandra Crawford, Bill Talbot and Ragna Kjellman.

Movie star Mark Damon escorted Georgia Morris to the El Mirador Hotel last week for an evening of dining and dancing. This was Georgia's prize as first runner-up in the 1959 Teen Angel contest. Bonnie Blackstone, placing first in the contest, will be a Hawaiian vacationer, along about next summer. Freshman Mary Faith Gastel, who came in third, received a $100 scholarship for drama and speech.

An extra reminder, don't forget this Friday will be our big homecoming game with Twentynine Palms. Join in all the fun and festivities, come-to the game.

Masons Arrange Scout Speaker

Verdie Lawrence, district field executive of the Riverside County council, Boy Scouts, will speak to the Coachella Valley Masonic High Twelve luncheon Thursday at the Desert Air Hotel, Rancho Mirage.

Modern Plan Bank Feature

Space, Customer Aids Stressed At Indio

INDIO — "New and exciting, with features and banking services not previously available to residents of Indio" is the way Gilbert D. Lehmann assistant vice president in charge of Citizens Division property development program, describes the new structure which will house the Indio Branch of Security First National

MOTHER WHO BEAT INFANT TO DEATH GETS CHOICE OF RAP

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A teen-age mother convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the beating death of her infant son had the choice today of returning to her New York home or serving a year in the county jail.

Florence Brown, 18, a divorcee, was living with Raymond V. Goff, 24, in July when she and Goff beat her 1-year-old son, Scott Brown, because he wouldn't stop crying. He died July 16 in Children's Hospital.

Superior Judge J. Howard Ziemann Monday placed Mrs. Brown on probation for five years and ordered her to return to her Long Island, N.Y. home or serve one year in jail.

Hazel Micelli Honored at UCSB Reception

SANTA BARBARA — Miss Hazel Ann Micelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Micelli, 784 E Street, Cathedral City, was among those honored here recently in a special reception for outstanding students given by Dr. Samuel B. Gould, chancellor, University of California, Santa Barbara, his wife, and members of the university's honors and scholastic committee.

Miss Micelli, an "Honors-at-Entrance" student and a scholarship winner, heard Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Fund for the Republic, Chicago, and former chancellor of the University of Chicago, address the reception. The affair was attended by 108 students on the Dean's Honor List, 58 "Honors-at-Entrance" freshmen students who achieved outstanding High School scholastic records, 118 holders of UCSB scholarships, and 51 winners of California state scholarships.

ONE OF THE outstanding features of the new structure is the spacious parking lot on the north side of the building. The parking area is capable of holding 36 cars at one time and has a special lane to be used by drive-in window customers.

The drive-in window and the night depository are both new features for Indio customers. The night depository will be for the use and protection of business establishments not able to make bank deposits during regular banking hours, he said.

THE SPACIOUS community room on the mezzanine will be available to any non-profit civic organizations wishing to hold meetings in the evening. In addition to its own separate outside entrance for after-hours use, it will have a refrigerator-stove-sink unit and enough dishes to serve any group, Lehmann said.

The new building, which will cost $250,000, including furniture and fixtures, when completed, is conveniently located at the corner of Oasis and Bliss, in the center of the downtown area. It will contain 5,200 feet of lobby space and will feature the new "multi-position" teller line, in use for the second time by the Citizens Division of the bank, Lehmann added, and is being built by Kretz and Wilson, Indio Contractors.

LEHMANN, WHO has been in charge of all construction and remodeling for Riverside and San Bernardino County branches of Security Bank since 1953, believes this new structure to be one of the most modern in the Citizens Division.

"I have always tried to incorporate as many new features into each building as possible," Lehmann said, "and in this branch building, Indio customers will find many of the best and newest."

Car brakes in top working condition are a must for traffic safety. But so is the ability to use your brakes properly. The Automobile Club of Southern California advises that you can stop more safely and effectively by pumping brakes rather than by ramming them hard. This technique not only assures safer, smoother stops, but the flashing of your brake lights give a timely warning to the driver behind you.

TIJUANA--'MOST SINFUL CITY'

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The Mexican border city of Tijuana is "probably the most sinful city in the Western world," and Americans are largely to blame.

Dr. Richard Barbour, director of guidance of San Diego city schools and national youth columnist, made that charge this week before a Senate subcommittee holding a two-day hearing here on juvenile delinquency.

"There are thousands of prostitutes in Tijuana," said Barbour. "Every male is importuned by them and their hangers-on. American girls and women may be importuned by male prostitutes."

"So-called sex circuses are available for those who wish to attend them or participate in them. Every perversion is provided."

"If such sex activity is a sin, and I believe it is, Tijuana is probably the most sinful city in the Western world."

Barbour said narcotics and pornography were sold in the border city about 20 miles south of here.

and were brought back into this country.

Americans must take the lion's share of the blame," said Barbour.

"We are the customers, we make vice profitable," he said. But, he said, they were faced with a tremendous problem in preventing visitors to Mexico from bringing back narcotics into the United States.

Photo Contests And Elections Set by Club

Election of officers and participation in two color photo contests are upcoming events in the Ramon Color Camera Club.

A business meeting, including the election of officers for the ensuing year, will be held 7:30 p. m. Friday in the Ramon Park Recreation hall. Other business will include a discussion of dues and programs, Walter L. Chesterman, incumbent president, announced.

Ray Stevens, current contest chairman, reiterated that the club color slide contest on pets, animal, and children pictures is limited to three pictures per entrant. Bill King, Beaumont, president of the Wind and Sun Council of Camera Clubs, and Smith McMullin, APSA, here, will judge the contest.

Members are invited to submit two slides each for the Inter-club P. S. A. International contest, which will be judged by the Salt Lake City Photochrome Club. Slides, limited to 2x2 size, must bear makers name, photo title, and spot for viewing angle in lower left corner.

Girls and young women in the age group of 15-24 account for 16 per cent of all apparel sold. 83 per cent of these young women read and shop a newspaper daily.
